

Curriculum Vitae

Christopher Charlton

Christopher Charlton is the President and Founder of The Charlton Group, Inc., a privately held global consortium of companies with activities in the following sectors: Automotive, technology, venture capital, energy, real estate development and holdings, along with manufacturing in North America and China. In addition to other investments, both public and private, Mr. Charlton has been actively engaged in emerging markets, particularly China and India since 1982 and currently has an affiliation with Deloitte Consulting that mitigates the risk and accelerates the process for sourcing in these markets. Mr. Charlton is a graduate of Michigan State University, the father of two children, and an avid sportsman, including hiking, high level tennis, skiing, and a black belt in martial arts. He is a bible study participant, philanthropist, President of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, major benefactor of Mayo Clinic, including endowments to the Charlton Building at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, a member of the Visiting Committee of the Michigan Center for Theoretical Physics and political/international trade and commerce advocate.